The community based testing (CBT) and incoming traveler screening are both surveillance tools of the Governor's COVID-19 Task Force which helps us to identify people who may be infected with the virus, especially those who may be pre-symptomatic or asymptomatic, so we can direct these people to the appropriate care, contain the virus, and prevent its spread using tools such as quarantine, isolation, and contact tracing. Testing results from these surveillance initiatives should not be considered a substitute for diagnostic testing for SARS-Cov2, the virus which causes COVID-19.

Stay home as much as possible and do not allow visitors.

Do not visit public places or your place of work. You may only leave your place of quarantine to get:

- Necessary medical care, food, or other supplies if no one else in your household is able to fulfill these needs for you.

If your workplace or school needs to know that you are in the self-quarantine, you need to tell them.

Separate yourself from others in your home, unless they are also in quarantine and do not have symptoms.

Stay in a separate room and use a separate bathroom, if possible. We encourage you and people who live in your household to wear a face covering

Clean and disinfect frequently touched objects and surfaces.

Wash your hands!

Practice good hand hygiene by washing your hands for 20 seconds with soap and water or by using alcohol-based hand sanitizer.

Cover your cough/sneezes with a tissue, then throw the tissue in the trash.

If there is no tissue, use your sleeve. Not your hands

Practice social distancing & wear a face covering.

If you need to go out, maintain at least 6 feet distance away from others. Avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth with unwashed hands.

Take your temperature and respond to Sara Alert daily.

Keep a log of any symptoms you might have. A fever is 100.4 °F or 38 °C

You can end self-quarantine after your results from your test are negative.
